Baetz praises efforts of Chamber-sees bright future for tourism

There was praise for the efforts of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, some gentle prodding for the tourism industry in the county and an effort to increase the awareness of the importance of tourism to the local economy when the Ontario, Minister of Tourism and Recreation, Reuben Baetz addressed the annual meeting of the local chamber. The minister was the featured speaker following the dinner, Wednesday, at Wig-A-Mog Inn.

The minister said the local Chamber of Commerce represented an excellent example of the efforts which similar organizations can put forth to attract visitors to the area. He said his ministry considers the local organization to be one of the best in attracting visitors and told the audience that the Haliburton Chamber of Commerce was often used as an example for other areas to emulate.

The compliments fell on welcome ears Wednesday as the room was filled with supporters of the Chamber, local tourist operators and merchants. Referring to the chamber and his ministry Baetz commented, "We both have vital and increasing roles to play in ensuring that there is significant, ordered growth of the tourism industry. We are both partners," he told the gathering.

The minister cited the unique nature of the Chamber, covering as it does the entire county, and the fact that tourism does play such an important role in the county economy as reasons for the importance of its efforts in promoting the area. He noted that visitors were estimated to have spent 60 million dollars in the Haliburton Highlands in 1981. "That expenditure made tourism the largest industry in Haliburton," the minister noted, "those figures should be comforting, and doubly so in today's depressed economy."

Baetz told the gathering that for the tourism industry to get maximum return on the tourism dollar which is available, everyone must sell this part of the province as a this part of the province. "My job is to sell the province as a travel destination. Your job is to sell Haliburton as a travel destination." The minister said the area must work with the ministry, with the regional tourism organizations such as COTA and with the travel operators to ensure complete success.

Baetz described the tourism industry as a "renewable resource" and suggested the county was fortunate to have such "incredible beauty" to attract visitors to the area.

Noting that he was probably speaking to a room full of people who believed in the importance of the tourism industry, the minister said that surveys have shown that many municipal governments are unaware of the value of tourism. "They do not understand or appreciate the importance - both economic and social - of tourism in their area," he said.

He said the results of this ignorance was little support from municipal council for the aims and objectives of the industry. "It translates into little or no financial support for promoting and developing tourism, excessively restrictive municipal by-laws and the lack of planning for tourism development.

"Baetz said his ministry would soon be embarking on a program to eliminate the ignorance. A 15 minute audio-visual presentation has been prepared for showing to councils. "This municipal awareness program will be unveiled next month," he told the meeting. "It will be made available to Chambers of Commerce when you are requesting support from local and regional governments."

The minister's upbeat and positive outlook on tourism, especially his references to the situation in the county, drew an enthusiastic response from the audience.

The minister was presented with a batik prepared by Mary Wallace for the Chamber of Commerce.

Museum questions must be clarified

The Ontario Tourism Minister Reuben Baetz thinks questions of who owns the collection and who will control it must be cleared up before the provincial government can make any decisions regarding the future the Kanawa Canoe Museum in Stanhope Township.

The minister commented in an interview with The Times on Wednesday that the government did not want to get caught in another situation similar to the problems which arose with the McMichael collection in Kleinburg.

"Nothing can be done until the status of the museum and collection is cleared up," he said. The minister noted that a feasibility study is currently underway and the results of it could shed some light on the future of the museum. Baetz noted that the collection is now privately owned.

The minister refused to say where he thought the museum should be located other than to comment, "I don't think Ottawa needs another museum." Ottawa is one of a number of locations which were assessed earlier this year for the location of this collection.

Baetz said it was not a responsibility of his ministry to provide funds for the development of the museum, but that his responsibility would be in promoting the collection as a destination for visitors. He said the funding for the museum now comes under the ministry of culture and recreation.

Snowdon ratepayers quiz Francis at open meeting

The hall was full Friday evening as ratepayers of Snowdon Township gathered at the community centre to meet their candidates in the upcoming municipal election. The two candidates for reeve, three for the position of deputy reeve, four for the three council seats and two for the board of education were in attendance.

Each of the candidates was given an opportunity to address the audience and, for many of them it was the last time they were heard from. During the question and answer period the two candidates for the position of reeve, the incumbent Bob Vick and the present deputy reeve, John Francis, monopolized the floor. The challenge from Francis seemed to draw most of the questions as the ratepayers drew him out on a number of topics including the loss of Highway 519, industrial development in the township, the tree protection by-law and the park being developed in the township.

Francis pointed out to the audience that the provincial government would be providing one and a quarter million dollars for improvements to the former Highway 519 that is now part of the county system. He said that funding would not be available if the road had remained under MTC control.

The questioner asked how he would attract industry to the area without the highway. Francis responded by noting that the township lacked any industrial zoning now. "I would rather see the township encourage residential development. Let the other townships chase the industry, we'll provide the space for residential needs. Let the others have the pollution that comes with industry." He suggested there was little return from industrial development and the township would prosper faster if it concentrated its efforts on attracting people to live there.

Francis came under fire as well for supporting the tree protection by-law passed recently at county council. The by law applies to Dysart only but a number of ratepayers expressed concern that it might be considered for Snowdon. "I don't want

Reports reflect cautious optimism for tourism growth

Cautious optimism seemed to be the tenor of reports offered by the president of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce and the organization's manager at the annual meeting held Wednesday at Wig-A-Mog Inn. Both the president, Rhonda Elstone, and the manager Bob Stinson, pointed to the continued growth of tourism in the Highlands, despite difficult economic conditions across the country, as a sign that tourism will continue to play a major part in the economy of the Highlands.

The president, however, expressed frustration at what she termed, "the lack of recognition of the importance of tourism to the local economy." She expressed concern that some people only see tourism as a two month business here. Citing an example of heavy winter bookings received by one resort, even by mid-summer, she noted the business is here and additional effort need only be applied to make the winter portion more profitable.

She told the audience at the annual meeting that she was pleased the area depended on tourism. "We have the natural beauty which attracts visitors and are close to a large market," she noted. "We have a lot to offer, all year round."

Elstone paid tribute to the work of the manager, Bob Stinson and the continued support from other members of the board of directors.

Commenting on what some might consider the low point of the past year, Elstone said the balloon promotion idea may not have cleared the ground, but it still provided encouraging evidence that many Chamber members had faith in this area.

Stinson echoed these remarks, noting that it took only two weeks for the Chamber to receive the $8000 in pledges that were required to get the project started. "It restored our faith in the community at a time I am sure many were convinced that support of that kind wasn't there."

Stinson told the meeting the Chamber would soon be looking for support similar to that which surrounded the balloon program. He said the Chamber's "Welcome Centre" is sitting on rotten sills. He said the board had hoped that a fund raising effort for a new building could be stretched over the next few years. "We don't have a few years," he told the group. "The board has passed a resolution to immediately establish a building fund that would hopefully see us complete the building in the coming spring."

The manager told the association members about a new bag promotion that will be tried in the coming year. The Chamber expects to put into circulation ten million bags, each one bearing a list of year-round activities in the Highlands.

Stinson concluded by noting, "Year round tourism in Haliburton County is not as unattainable as many have envisaged."

Elstone added, "I believe in Haliburton. If we all do, we'll be able to grow and prosper to face the future."

New board

At the close of the annual meeting, the members endorsed a slate of candidates offered by the nominating committee. Returning for another term on the board will be Rhonda Elstone, of Elstone Construction, Haliburton; Curtis Eastmure of Maple Sands Resort, Maple Lake; Ken Langdon of Black's Hardware, Haliburton; Dennis Casey of Birch Point Lodge, Lake Kashagawigamog; George Schmid of The Harvest Room, Haliburton and Jack MacGregor of Camp Kandalore. Six new directors elected Wednesday include: Kerry Barbour of Wilberforce I.G.A.; Wendy Ramsay of Halimar Resort, Lake Kashagawigamog; Bill Kulas of Easton's Red and White, Minden; John Stainton of Locarno Resort, Lake Kashagawigamog; Alan Bagg of the Eagle Lake Store and Bob Jennings of Sandy Lane Resort, Halls Lake.

At a regular board meeting held October 25, Rhonda Elstone was returned as president for her second term. Ken Langdom will be the vice president while George Schmid and Jack MacGregor were chosen to serve as executive members.

The Chamber meeting fell in the middle of busy a busy day for members of the organization. They had opportunities to take in a number of seminars, see computers being demonstrated and, following the evening meal, hear a speech from the Ontario Minister of Tourism and Recreation, Reuben Baetz. (A report on the minister's speech can be found elsewhere in this week's edition of The Times.)

someone else telling me what I can and cannot do with my land," a member of the audience commented.

Francis noted that the Dysart by-law was only to be tried for a year to see if it was workable. He said the main thrust of the document was the protection of the trees for the future population. "There are people who just don't know how long it takes to grow a tree," he commented.

The candidate for reeve said in some cases abandoned farm land or cut over bush is being replanted with pine. He suggested that wise use of the present forests could ensure a healthy crop of hardwood trees for generations to come rather than stands of less desirable species.

Questions were also raised as to the value of the nature park and the cross-country ski trails which have been built in the township in the past few years. Several in attendance said they found little evidence of progress and wondered where the money went that was used to hire the employees.

"You've got to have something to attract people to the township," Francis commented. "Snowdon might as well take advantage of the grants being offered by the province. If we don't, someone else will." He said the idea of applying for grants had not originated with the Snowdon council but had been suggested by reeves in adjoining townships who, Francis commented, "Wanted to see Snowdon progress." He said he expected to see the park finished in about ten years. "In the meantime, those grants are providing employment for a number of local individuals, keeping bread on their tables and we are getting a park. It is coming at no direct cost to the local ratepayers."

In his opening remarks to the meeting Reeve Bob Vick said he was concerned about a number of issues facing the municipality and the county. These included a county dump system, the loss of Highway 519, the tree protection by-law and the changing of the county status from provisional to full county. Vick said the change in status will cost the county grants for the school system. "This is just getting the foot in the door," he commented. "And I haven't given up on the loss of Highway 519," he told the audience.

Francis told the meeting that there would be no change in education grants with the change in status.

"It is important to choose a leader who can think, and still listen to his council," Francis told the meeting.

Stanhope residents quiz candidates

Stanhope Township held its all candidates meeting Saturday night at the Stanhope Fireman's Hall. The question period after introductory speeches by the candidates was dominated by queries of Leroy Eager the only present Board of Education member, a discussion of a controversial questionnaire formulated by the Maple Lake and Beech Lake Property Owners Association and concern about continuing small deficits which result from a number of community events.

Elinor Harrison, wife of the present reeve Jim Harrison, asked Eager for the most effective method to bring a problem to the attention of the Board of Education. She referred to a problem concerning a daughter and the many attempts made to discuss the incident.

Eager, a member by acclamation, said a letter to the chairman of the board was the best manner to get the board's attention.

Harrison replied that this method had been tried and the chairman, Cheryl Murdoch, was not present at a meeting she set up.

Eager could not reply.

The questionnaire sent by the Maple and Beech Lake Property Owners Association to candidates concerning their views on various matters was challenged by candidate Ann Barker after an inquiry was made as to why some candidates had not responded.

Barker said that answers to the questions were not legally binding. She also said that it was unnecessary for candidates to put their responses on paper "like children" so they could be held accountable for shifts in policy.

The restraint policy of the provincial government fostered fears of cut backs on a number of township social events which, though successful, usually ran at a deficit.

Concern was expressed for Stanhope's Fun Day and the Fly-In at the Stanhope airport.

Incumbent members of council and committee member candidates told the

Hallowe'en set for October 30

The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden has declared that the night of October 30 will be designated Hallowe'en in the townships. Children wanting to collect treats door-to-door and those residents wishing to hand them out should be prepared to do so Saturday evening.

The motion endorsing the change was passed at a special meeting of the council held October 20.

Delegates attend seniors conference

Five delegates from the Haliburton County Home Support Services attended the Older Adult Centres Association of Ontario conference in Ottawa on October 13, 14, 15. They included: Alberta Maitland, Minden; Gladys Reid, Lochlin; Co-ordinator Marie

Wallace; Jim Wilkinson and Doris McCann, Kennisis Lake.

Various workshops, provided by top resource persons, to assist those working with this age group on healthy life styles, program planning and health promotion activities were available.

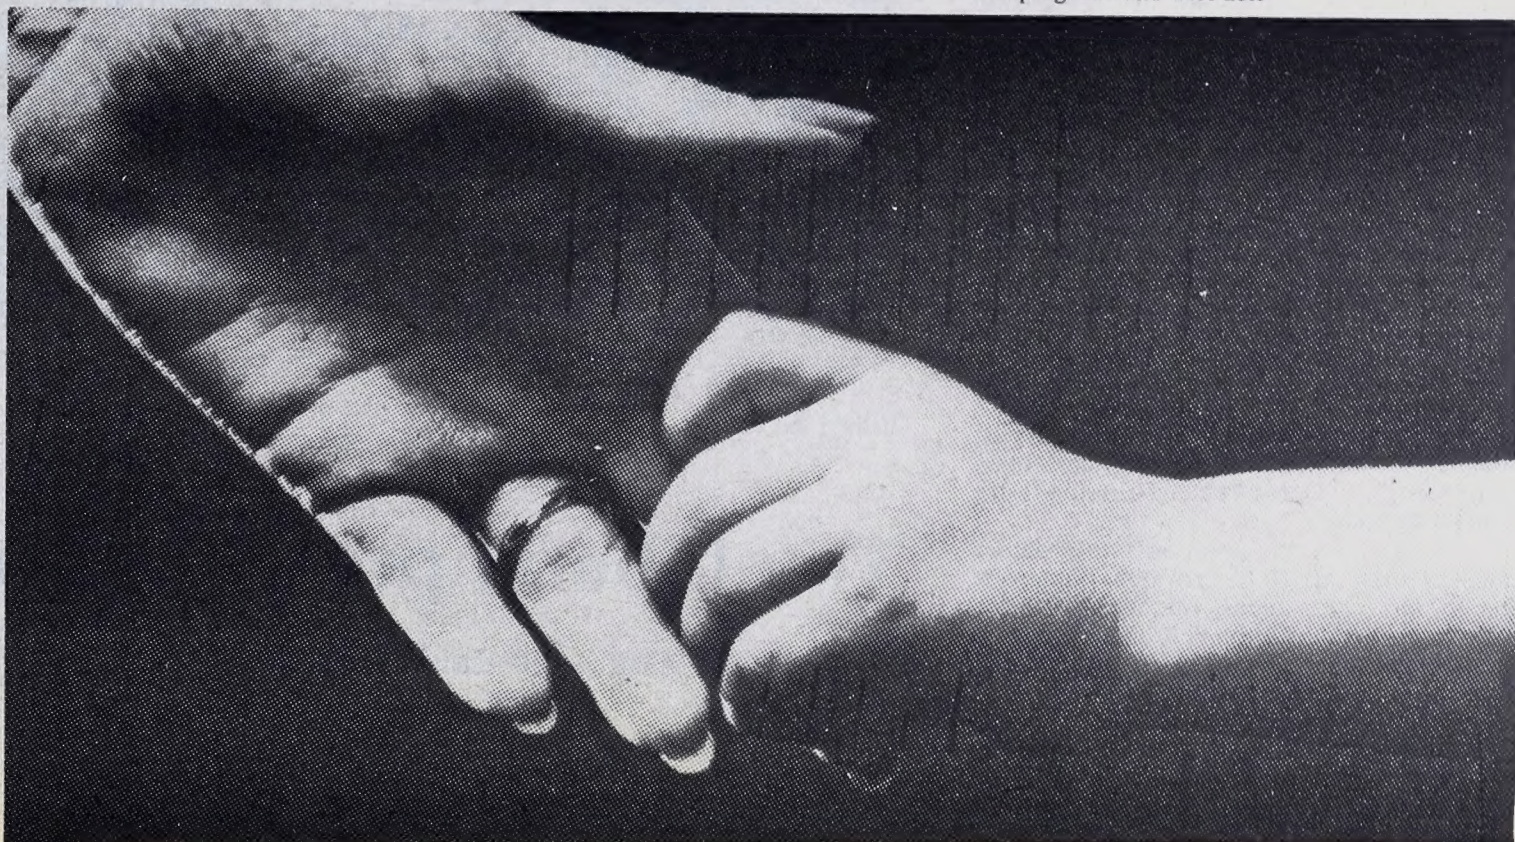

The keynote speaker, Dr. Sylvia MacDonald gave a report on the resolution made at the World Conference on Aging which she attended in Vienna in July, 1982.

Many of the recommendations made at the World Conference will assist government bodies throughout the world in planning for the increasing population of senior persons.

The delegates from Haliburton were delighted to share with other areas of Ontario their experiences with programs and were able to pick up many good ideas which they can bring to the directorate of the Home Support Services for implementation in Haliburton County.

Financial assistance from the Ministry of Community and Social Services through the Senior Volunteers in Service program provided the opportunities for our delegates to become informed and stimulated to enhance the services provided by Haliburton County Home Support Services.

A worthy recipient

There are many individuals in Haliburton County who help make this a more pleasant place to live. Some play a prominent role in the community, their efforts gaining recognition on a regular basis. Others work behind the scenes, quietly making their contribution to the community without fanfare and often without acknowledgement.

In the choice of Doris McCann as Highlander of the Year, the Chamber of Commerce has chosen someone who falls between these two poles.

Mrs. McCann, has been the driving force behind the Haliburton County Home Support Services. She has taken an idea and molded it into an organization that is reaching out and touching more people every day. The successes of the organization and of her helpers often occurred unnoticed. Other times, when necessary, she drew attention to her cause - challenging the complacent, upsetting preconceived notions.

In three years she has been able to create a social service that not only provides numerous programs for county seniors, but also includes these individuals in the solution of problems around them. Not only are those who are served helped, but those who volunteer to serve also benefit from their participation.

There are many people who contributed to the success of the Haliburton County Home Support Services. As Mrs. McCann has pointed out, her efforts would have been for naught without them. But her contribution and leadership in the organization makes her a worthy recipient of the Highlander of the Year award.

A cheap shot

Politics, never a game to follow the Marquis of Queensberry rules, reached a new low Friday evening in Snowdon Township.

The occasion was an all candidate's meeting. Some spirited debate and name calling took place with John Francis, candidate for Reeve, fielding most of the action. But, a comment from a member of the audience, directed at Francis was one of the cheapest shots we've seen in a long time.

The individual told the audience that he had been the recipient of a phone call from a "friend" of John Francis'. This "friend" told the individual not to "tear down" Francis. He also said the call "upset" his wife. He demanded an apology...not from Francis, but from his co-called friend whom the speaker failed to identify.

The purpose of the entire exercise was to muddy the reputation of Francis by insinuating that he had prompted the caller. But without identifying the caller or the subject discussed, the speaker left the audience without enough information to determine the validity of the implied accusation. The speaker left little doubt as to his intention when he said he was demanding an apology, not from Francis, but from the caller. Why then bring the matter up at the all candidate's meeting?

We understand that this type of campaigning, based on insinuation and rumour, is not uncommon in some townships in the county. It is unfortunate that some candidates and their supporters, must stoop to this level. We can only hope that voters will not be swayed by this kind of "campaigning" and will base their decisions on more intelligent criteria.

Behind the barn

The Liberal prescription

- by John Eakins, M.P.P. -

As we moved into Committee to discuss the merits of the Government's restraint program, Opposition Leader, David Peterson, served notice that our party intends to move a series of amendments aimed at lending equity to this meagre first step toward economic recovery in Ontario.

Bill 179, as it stands, is only a small step toward the recovery we all desire - a kind of 5% solution, you might say. More can be done. More must be done if we are to place Canada's most populous, industrious province back in the forefront in world markets.

Obviously, the greatest single deficiency in the Government's restraint program is the lack of a job creation component. There is nothing to stimulate investment or to promote economic renewal. It is a halting effort to reverse the tremendous decline in Ontario's economic fortunes which we have experienced since the last provincial budget.

Most disturbing to the Ontario Liberal Party is the failure of the program to deal equitably with all members of our society in limiting wage increases and the escalation of prices. For this reason, we will be moving a series of amendments which we hope will improve the effect of the Bill and lengthen to a stride this step toward recovery.

The objectives of the amendments are:

- to include OHIP premiums and doctors' fees in the program,
- to improve the inadequate provisions for supplementary increases to the lowest paid employees,

- to remove those measures which unfairly act to reduce pensions for those nearing retirement,

- to allow for the right to strike or to seek arbitration over non-compensation issues,

- to similarly allow for the right to strike or to seek arbitration for the unsettled 1981 contracts,

- to allow for equal treatment of merit increases for all employees,

- to ensure that union and non-union workers are treated alike in determining increases under the program,

- to place some teeth in the price side of the Bill by ensuring that cost pass-throughs and profit increases are not automatic,

- to remove the secrecy and Ministerial discretion inherent in the present program by providing mechanisms for the public to refer increases to the Board;

- to allow for appeals; to guarantee the right to a hearing of any affected party; and to ensure criteria for judging price increases and written reasons for decisions be publicly available.

The Highlander of the Year Award, presented to me, was received with the greatest shock and pleasure.

Working in the field of Community Services, one sees so many dedicated, kind and hard working volunteers. There could have been many awards.

I would like to say "thank you" to all who worked so hard in establishing Haliburton County Home Support Services. All levels of government; municipal, provincial, and federal assisted in providing operating space, encouragement, information and of course financial support.

Co-ordination of services is the key to a good organization. Over 300 volunteers are involved with the Home Support program; on board management, volunteers in direct service and office assistance.

Editor's note: The following is an open letter to Parks Canada, the agency responsible for water levels in the Haliburton Highlands.

Sirs:

As you are undoubtedly aware, the draw down of water from Kushog Lake, particularly during the period from 1st September, 1982, has been incredibly severe. This fact has been drawn to the attention of your office and that of Mr. Herb Ireland, at the Haliburton office, by telephone, with a most unsatisfactory response and can only be described as "stonewalling" of the worst kind.

In determining the actual drop in the water level, I have used my permanent dock, which approximates the normal high water level (but at some times, certainly during July of this year, actually awash by 3 to 6 inches), for accurate measurement.

Using this reference point, the measured cumulative drop since mid-July to the 5th of October, amounts to 70 inches, and from the end of August, at least 33 inches. In fact, during the past two weeks 14.25 inches.

A visit today to the dam at Buck Slides, which drains this lake into the Boshkung, Twelve Mile, and Mountain Lake sequence, shows what appears to be the base totally devoid of any logs, with a total of nine logs on the deck, plus the steel log. There is currently a water head of at least one foot and according to the scale with the top measurement of 11 feet, showing a drop exceeding six feet to the water head, obviously still draining.

The various simplistic platitudes offered in explanation for this extraordinary and totally unsatisfactory water level maintenance schedule, ranging all the way from provision for fish spawning (which occurs in November and surely doesn't require this degree of drainage) to unspecified requests from various sources for lower lake levels, are neither practical nor reasonable.

The one qualified rationale (acknowledged by Mr. Ireland of the Haliburton office) was the accommodation for water requirements attributed to the kayak races over the Labour Day weekend (September 4th to 6th) at the Minden White Water Preserve, which was followed on the next weekend by the White Water Canoe Races. The latter two events clearly coincide with the two foot drop that occurred in early September, which was neither replenished nor in any way diminished in the intervening period. This is totally inexcusable.

As a long time cottage owner on Kushog Lake (well in excess of 30 years) and permanent residents for the past three years, the year 1982 was clearly one of the worst in recollection for this lengthy period in terms of the abuse of the lake as a water reservoir to be emptied at will or whim.

It has not only rendered boating and dock facilities virtually useless throughout September (the permanent dock is connected to a 10 foot walkway to a large floating dock, with the walkway at a precipitous nearly 90 degree angle) but has resulted in the beaching of many boats throughout the lake and a resultant great difficulty on the part of the local marina operators to retrieve these boats for winter storage. We have also experienced difficulties in maintaining the prime of our water pump, which is a high capacity two-stage 3/4 h.p. jet system of a size normally used by lodges and other large consumers of water, and was professionally installed and maintained.

The 1982 water debacle was closely matched by a similar severe and sudden drop in 1981, but not quite to these current record low levels, and again curiously coincident with the aforementioned White Water racing events. This, in my opinion and that of many others to whom I have talked with in this regard, re-affirms my long-held view of the cavalier attitude of the Trent Severn Waterways toward Kushog Lake as only a water reservoir facility, completely ignoring the numerous tax-paying cottagers and year round residents on lake frontage.

While I personally support such sporting events that may provide a modest stimulus to the local economy, surely the greater majority needs of the residents outweigh the benefits and the rather doubtful measure of monetary contributions to the local merchants.

Most assuredly, the usual trite explanations of heat "evaporation" and absence of rainfall, are noticeably absent in the summer of 1982. Moreover, while other lakes in this particular sequence, similarly suffer from random water draw downs, the treatment of Kushog Lake in this regard is notoriously bad. We think it is high time that these well demonstrated conditions be rectified.

Freda and Garry Heyes, Kushog Lake.

Editor:

Information bulletins from both the New Brunswick Provincial Environmental Ministry and the American Environmental groups, now confirm the fact that acid rain is destroying both crops and forests.

The New Brunswick study concludes that acid rain severely retards the rate of growth of seedlings: drastically lowers the germination potential of seeds: results in the production of malformed and spindly mature crops and causes a rapid loss of soil nutrients particularly in podzolic and acid type soils.

The only land that may benefit slightly from acid rain is that area where the soil contains high levels of basic soil elements. However, even here, leaf blight has been traced to acid rain.

Other extremely important medical discovery relates to the effect of high aluminium levels in well waters and potable lake systems. There is now some fairly conclusive evidence that aluminium causes premature ageing in humans and the early onset of senile dementia.

This discovery was made when autopsies revealed that the brain tissue of victims of this disease and of Alzheimers syndrome contained high levels of aluminium. Furthermore certain areas in the Pacific Islands that had high levels of aluminium in their fresh water bodies showed a definite correlation with high levels of a disease related to Alzheimers syndrome that was almost endemic to the area.

This new data should, we hope, prod the governments of both Canada and the U.S.A. to take a more serious posture towards pollution control.

Baetz addresses meeting

The Honourable Rueben Baetz, Minister of Tourism and Recreation, spoke to members of Resorts Ontario Friday at the Wig-A-Mog Inn.

Resort owners from throughout the province were at the inn for a three day convention and workshop. The mood was positive after a moderately successful season.

Baetz gave a short sketch of four government programs designed to encourage tourism in Ontario. Restraint is the government watchword but Baetz is convinced that tourism is important.

Although foreign tourism was down for 1982, occupancy rates for June to September had risen from 73% last year to 80% this year, a small but encouraging increase.

Baetz attributed part of this increase to the fact that more Ontarians are vacationing in the province. The success of the slogan "Ontario, yours to discover" was a catalyst," said Baetz. "The recently coined catch phrase is second in popularity to 'I Love New York' according to a study compiled in Michigan."

The second of Baetz's four programs is to make municipal governments aware of the revenue tourism generates and their responsibility to assist the industry. Audio-visual presentations and brochures have been assembled to help. The minister suggested that municipal governments still have not fully appreciated the economic impact of tourism on their communities.

The ministry has also established a limited consulting service to help owners cut costs and develop marketing techniques, such as target marketing.

The last program Baetz is convinced will aid the industry is the newly introduced grading system. The system has faced opposition which Baetz hopes can be resolved. He said that the Telidon computer system will play a vital role in bookings and the grading program will facilitate them.

NOMINATIONS CLOSE DECEMBER 1, 1982

from the chamber

by Bob Stinson

At last week's annual meeting, exactly half the Board of Directors was replaced and we take great pleasure in welcoming six new Directors to our Board. Bob Jennings from Sandy Lane Resort at Hall's Lake, Bill Kulas of Minden Red & White, Wendy Ramsay from Halimar Resort, Kerry Barbour of Wilberforce I.G.A., John Stainton of Locarno Resort and Alan Bagg of Eagle Lake Store are all new directors as of last Wednesday.

Pressures of business and other community commitments prompted six directors to retire but all have indicated their interest is as great as ever and that they wish to assist with committees and any other special projects that present themselves. To Dave Willis, Shawn Hagerman, Jim Orr, Barbara Bolin, Keith Stephenson and Don Blakey, we owe a considerable debt of gratitude for the many hours of time and the considerable expertise they have provided us with during their tenure. A special mention must go to Barbara Bolin who had served on the board for seven years before retiring. Thank you one and all.

Rhonda Elstone of Elstone Construction, Ken Langdon of Black's Home Hardware, Curtis Eastmure of Maple Sands Resort, George Schmid of the Harvest Room, Jack MacGregor of Camp Kandalore and Dennis Casey were all returned for another term and we welcome their continued contribution.

A week of learning

Anyone, particularly in the resort business, was certainly blessed with an opportunity to avail themselves of a great deal of valuable information over the last few days by attending either as a member, or as a guest of a member the full day of Chamber activities last Wednesday followed by the Resorts Ontario Fall meeting Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

At the Chamber day, they were advised on the role of Tourism Ontario, how to borrow money, how to extend credit and collect it, how to get along with your customers, what to do about the computer age, and how we may be effected by the issue of "Cottage Power".

Those who carried on into the Resorts Ontario meetings were informed on how to keep more of the money they make instead of giving it all to the "tax-man", co-op advertising vehicles available to them, a new group insurance plan, progress on acid rain, more computer information, developing a good brochure, how to work with Bus Tour operators, how to take advantage of the Grading program, and a crash course of Creative Marketing in the '80's. In addition to all this, both groups were addressed by the honourable Reuben Baetz, who was most positive about the Tourist Industry in general and our area and its development in particular.

Another major benefit of these types of get-togethers, is in the social portions. It provides an opportunity to mix with other businessmen and discuss mutual problems and solutions. We find that resort operators are among the most open people in the world when it comes to sharing worthwhile ideas.

Both functions were well attended and those participating were enthusiastic about what they got out of the exercise. The thing that always surprises us is the number of resorts and businesses that are apparently so well informed on all the concerns that we listed that they never attend.

Support the H.C.S.A. decision

It is truly unfortunate that the snowmobile industry in Ontario has become divided into warring camps that both claim to represent the snowmobiler and his concerns. The local Haliburton County Snowmobile Association was deliberated long and hard over their decision on which side to support. Before finalizing it, they request input from Resort operators and that input unanimously supported the presentation by the Alliance. Since the H.C.S.A. is one of the largest organizations in Ontario and its trails are central to much of the cross country travel that occurs it is anticipated that their decision to join the Alliance will influence a number of their neighbours to go the same way. The ideal situation would be for everyone to do so and we would be down to one provincial body to deal with.

Now that the commitment has been made it is imperative that the business community get behind the club and support it. Businesses are asked to start by joining the Ontario Trail Builder's Alliance with a $100.00 fee, 80% of which is immediately turned over to the H.C.S.A. The Alliance will provide you with a framed certificate and will do a mailing of your literature to 350 snowmobile and cross country ski clubs in Ontario. Businesses will also be asked, at strategic locations to sell membership stickers ($25.00 per season or $10.00 per weekend).

Government is now out of the snowmobile trail funding business and the H.C.S.A. has taken the only logical approach towards providing the trails we need.

A very controversial Provincial Bill which provides for licencing of Businesses by Municipalities is likely to be put forward for third reading this fall. In view of the sweeping powers this Bill would give to Municipalities the Ontario Chamber has expressed grave concerns over its impact on small businesses. Our Chamber will be setting up a committee to provide some input on our concerns. If you are concerned too, contact our office and we will put you in touch with the committee members. We must make our submission by early November.

Education questions concern Dysart voters

Dysart et al's Board of Education candidates met a barrage of questioning concerning school bus safety and parent/board communication at the municipality's all candidates meeting Monday night. Provincial legislation regarding inflationary measures and equal opportunity schooling were also discussed.

A concerned parent asked whether having a senior student or adult on each bus as a crossing guard had been discussed at Board meetings. She related an incident which she said cast doubt on the present safety system.

Candidate Nancy Stinson said that the matter had been discussed at board meetings but said she could not condone her child being a guard and so could not ask any other child to accept the position.

Long time Board member Len Salvatori said that two problems hindered the Board in implementing a crossing guard program.

The first is that volunteers had not come forward when asked. Also, the matter of liability has not been resolved.

The question of parent/Board communication was a result of a candidate's speech. The questioner asked if a standing committee comprised of parents and Board members could be set up to enhance understanding.

A series of meetings were held earlier this year and only at Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden was interest strong enough to support a parent teacher organization.

A member of the audience revealed that the idea had foundered partly because of the radicalism of some parents.

Recent provincial legislation, specifically Bill 82 guaranteeing equal educational opportunities for exceptional children, has started to change the structure of the county system.

The Bill, to be put in place by September 1985, has prompted the Board to hire a speech correctionist and a psychologist. These and other measures have commanded about $300,000 from the Board.

The other piece of legislation will Bill 179 which restrains public sector wage increases to 5%. This is looked upon as a boon by some candidates while others see it as a source of dissension.

Dump funds will not be wasted

Lutterworth township waste sites will be getting minor facelifts before the year ends.

Don Grabowski informed council October 21 that money was available from government grants given to the township earlier this year for the Little Gull and Davis Lake dumps upkeep.

"We may not be getting it next year," said Grabowski referring to the impact of government restraint programs. The grant money must be returned if unused so maintenance was planned.

The Davis Lake site has $1250 left for improvements while the Little Gull site has $750.

Council discussed several uses for the money including fill, signs, fencing and repairing entry road surfaces.

Council directed Grabowski to assess the dumps needs and take necessary action.

Doris McCann, 1982 Highlander of the Year

Doris McCann, the moving force behind the Haliburton Highlands Home Support Services, was named Highlander of the year. The presentation of the award was made at the annual meeting of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, Wednesday evening at Wig-A-Mog Inn.

"I was shocked, thrilled and humbled when I heard my name being read out," Mrs. McCann commented in an interview following the presentation. "The first thing that crossed my mind was the many other individuals in the county who deserve the award."

The presentation was made by Stanhope Reeve Jim Harrison. He noted, in presenting the award, that the criteria which the Chamber's Board of Directors used in evaluating nominees included 'someone who has made an outstanding contribution to the economic, civic or social welfare of our county.' The Reeve pointed out, "1982 has been a year of troublesome economic conditions, and it is therefore not surprising that the Highlander of the Year is a person who has made an outstanding contribution to the area's social welfare."

Mrs. McCann is a native of the Highlands, having been born and raised in Minden. After completing high school here she left for Toronto to study nursing. She joined the Canadian Air Force and served as a nurse between 1941 and 1945.

It was during the enlistment that she met her husband Dick and following the war they married and settled in Toronto. The McCanns raised a family of four. Doris notes, "Vacations were all but out of the question with four youngsters, so we decided to purchase our own vacation spot. Having kept in touch with people in this part of the province, we were aware of property coming on the market on KENNISIS Lake and so we bought it."

The cottage has now become a retirement home for Doris and Dick. They moved in permanently in 1977.

Worked with elderly

Doris had been active in social services in Toronto, especially in working with the elderly and the handicapped. "When we left Toronto, someone passed my name to the Peterborough co-ordinator of provincial social services, and it wasn't long before he had contacted me."

It was through that phone call and subsequent events that the Home Support Services came into being. A survey of county seniors, undertaken through the Social Planning Council in 1978, identified a number of problems bothering area senior citizens. "The survey told us our seniors were suffering from loneliness, many lacked transportation or, other than their church affiliations, had little or no reason to get out and meet people."

In response to the survey, and under Mrs. McCann's direction, the Haliburton County Home Support Services was formed. Working without an office, volunteers who often had to tap their own resources for postage, stationary, and phone bills, the service started to take shape in April of 1979.

The first major undertaking was the provision of meals on wheels to seniors, many of whom lived alone and found it difficult or uneconomical to prepare hot three course meals on a regular basis. Meals on wheels brought a hot meal to their door on a regular basis.

A short time later the Home Support Service received the backing of the provincial government which recognized the value of the service the organization was providing. Funding of 50% was provided.

Other programs

However, there is more to the service than meals on wheels. The Home Support Service now sponsors a wheels to meals program, an information centre, home help, a phone-a-friend exchange, co-ordinates friendly visiting, transportation for the elderly, income tax assistance and help for those with personal problems. If nothing else, the Home Support Service is a friendly ear, a helpful voice on the phone or a welcome knock on the door that can make individuals feel they are not alone, that someone cares about their problems.

One of the most successful programs in Doris's estimation is wheels to meals. It is essentially meals on wheels in reverse, bringing the people to a central place to enjoy a hot meal and social activity, often a game of cards. Not only do the seniors get the benefit of the hot meal, perhaps more importantly the program provides the opportunity for the participants to 'get out of the house', meet new friends and enjoy their company.

"We have found that the drivers who provide the 'wheels' may be younger or a junior senior. It gives these people a chance to mix with the seniors of the county, Doris noted. "The program also means that individuals from different groups can meet, make new friends, establish new relationships."

The popularity of the program is evident in the numbers taking part. Last year the wheels to meals program was enjoyed 5000 times in locations all over the county. "The service is there and available for all seniors. All they have to do is get in touch with us," Doris commented.

Serving all seniors

Who is being served by the various functions of the Home Support Services? According to Doris there are two distinct groups of senior citizens in the county who make use of the service.

"We often think of the seniors who have lived here all their lives as being hardy and independent. That may not always be the case." She pointed out that true independence for seniors usually means that members of the extended family are close at hand to assist, for example with shopping, driving, or other chores around the house. "In many cases the younger members of these families have moved away, probably for economic reasons and the seniors are here alone."

The service is also receiving enquiries from people who have recently moved into the area to retire. Often they have left behind a large city with its many friends and activities. They are not "plugged into the local grapevine" and are unaware of the activities being offered or who to turn to for help. "They are experiencing a real sense of isolation that they didn't consider when they thought of retiring to the Highlands. Many are taking another hard look at their choice," she commented.

Calls from individuals and couples in this group have led to contacts being established with seniors in similar circumstances. "We are giving them help in getting groups organized, providing the structure so these people can get 'plugged into' the community around them" Doris adds.

The 1982 Highlander of the Year recognizes the contribution of others to the success of the service. She points out that the board of directors, initially established with 12 people, has now been expanded to include 25, so that virtually every corner of the county is represented on the board.

On Wednesday evening the Chamber of Commerce recognized the important and continuing contribution made by Doris McCann to the success of the Home Support Services. It is an honour which most people in the Highlands feel is well deserved.

Junior 'C' standings

The Haliburton Huskies are in last place in the Georgian Bay Junior 'C' standings. The last place position is as of October 17, when the league statistician released the latest figures.

In five games, the Huskies have lost four and tied one for a total of one point. As of October 17, they were tied with the Bracebridge entry for last spot, however Bracebridge defeated Haliburton this past weekend and, when the statistics were tabulated, the Bracebridge team had only played two games.

Leading the northern portion of the league is Gravenhurst with 11 points based on a five win - one tie record. Parry Sound is second with seven points, followed by Huntsville with four then Bracebridge and Haliburton.

In the southern section of the 'C' loop, Midland leads the standings with 10 points, based on five wins and one loss. Essa is second with eight points followed by Oro with 4 and Stayner and Penetang with one each.

Bad weekend for Huskies

The Haliburton Huskies had trouble with the opposition in both games this past weekend. Friday evening the team travelled to Bracebridge where they were downed 5 - 3. Saturday evening, back on home ice, the team was set back 11 - 4 at the hands of Gravenhurst.

The impact of the weekend games could reach far beyond the two losses however, as the team will be without the services of its leading scorer, Mike Rae. Mike suffered a broken wrist in the Saturday contest and according to team officials could be sidelined for up to six weeks while the break mends.

The injury couldn't have come at a worse time for the teams top goal-getter. While the Huskies' fortunes have not been the brightest lately, Mike has been able to provide some sparkle for the team by leading the Georgian Bay Junior 'C' scoring race. He has 13 points based on 12 goals and one assist. He is one point ahead of Midland player John Walter, who has 12 points, and two ahead of a pair of Midland players, Paul Hahn and Ken Mugford.

The only other player listed in the top 15 scorers in the league is Scott Rae who placed twelfth with nine points based on a three goal and six assist record.

Those standings were issued by the league as of October 17 and do not take into account the two most recent weekend games in which both Rae brothers added to their scoring. In the Friday night contest Scott Rae picked up two of the goals with the third going to Fred Roberts. Assists on Scott's first goal came from Mike Rae and Dan Robertson. Mike also assisted on Scott's second tally, with the help of Duff Mitchell.

In the Saturday evening game Scott Rae opened the scoring for the Huskies in the first period, connecting on a pass from Fred Roberts and Ed Davis. Brian Lloyd scored two goals for the Huskies, one in the second frame assisted by Mike Rae and Davis, and the second in the final period with help from Ed Davis and Duff Mitchell. The final goal came from Dan Robinson with Mitchell and Brian Lloyd assisting.

The Huskies are in Huntsville October 29 for an 8:30 p.m. game and return to the Haliburton arena for a game against Parry Sound. Game time has been set at 8 p.m.

Tragedy

Those associated with the Georgian Bay Junior 'C' loop were saddened to learn of the death of a Gravenhurst player Saturday evening following the game in Haliburton. Rob McLaren, son of the team's manager, Jim McLaren, was killed in a car accident on highway 118.

Minden Recreation Committee satisfied with financial statement

The Minden Recreation Committee has passed a resolution stating it is satisfied with the financial information provided by the operator of the arena concession, Ed Pergolas. The information supplied by the concessionaire was questioned by Reeve Lloyd Walker at the September 22 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Township council.

Reeve Walker, contacted Tuesday, said that if the Recreation Committee was satisfied with the financial information provided by the operator of the snack bar, he was satisfied as well.

The snack bar is operated by Ed Pergolas who is also a member of township council and council's representative on the Recreation Committee. When the discussion of the concession arose at the October 19 meeting of the Recreation Committee, Pergolas declared a conflict of interest. He was not present when the matter was raised by the reeve at the council meeting in September.

The resolution by the Recreation Committee stated that the concessionaire had provided the sales figures on a monthly basis and that the Election corrections

There were a number of errors in last week's listing of the candidates in various municipal elections. The following we hope, will set the record straight.

- in Snowdon Township Wally McMullen, is one of three candidates seeking the seat of Deputy Reeve. Others include Fred Simmons and Dwain Wruth.

- in Somerville Township the list of council candidates should have included Sue Douglas. We had incorrectly identified the candidate as Sinc Douglas. Others in the race include Clayton Cameron, Gordon Carr, Jack MacDonald, Michael MacNeil, Tom McAuley, Jerrard Purdon, Don Reagan, Angus Sumrall and James Wakeling.

- in Somerville Township, one of five candidates for the Board of Education post is Noni Campbell. Others include Susan Dinwoodie, David Suckling, Gordon Mitchell and Orlee Wells.

- in Laxton, Digby and Longford Township three candidates are running for a single seat on the Board of Education. Our report indicated they were all acclaimed to office. The candidates, who will also serve Carden and Dalton townships, include Mary MacMaster, William Wuen-nell and Margaret Stewart.

committee, "...accept said figures as being adequate for the committee's needs and pursuant to the contract require nothing further than the figures supplied."

When Reeve Walker had first raised the matter he said he had asked a number of authorities including a lawyer, accountant and a government official whether the information supplied was a proper financial statement. He said the replied he received indicated the information was not a financial statement.

"I wasn't satisfied with the financial statement," Walker commented on Tuesday. "I had been asking for information for three or four months and when I had not received the information I felt the matter should be brought to the council's attention."

The reeve said he had not mentioned the matter, "to have something against Eddie (Mr. Pergolas). I was just doing my job."

Walker said now that the Recreation Committee had endorsed the figures supplied by the concessionaire, he was satisfied. "I'm satisfied as long as the committee is satisfied," the reeve commented.

The contract for the rental of the concession at the arena requires the concessionaire to pay a yearly fee plus an additional charge if his gross sales exceed a certain figure. To enable the Recreation Committee to monitor the sales of the booth, the agreement stipulates that concessionaire must file a monthly sales report with the committee.

Honours and awards night

(Due to space limitations we were unable to publish all photographs from the HHSS awards presentations. These photos should appear in next week's edition of The Times.)

The top students of 1981-82 at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School were honoured Saturday evening.

Fellow students, teachers, parents, relatives and friends gathered at the high school auditorium to pay tribute to the outstanding scholars.

Prior to the presentation of the awards, the students, their parents and staff enjoyed a dinner at the school.

Robert Herlihey, chairman of the HHSS scholarship fund noted that three awards had been renamed this year to honour former teachers at the high school. Joyce Williams, a former English teacher, Clarence McInerney, a retired geography teacher, and George Thayer, a science teacher have all had scholarships bearing their names, awarded in each of the disciplines.

Herlihey also paid tribute to a number of groups and individuals who have made contributions to the student loan fund. This fund is available to HHSS graduating students who are continuing with their education and need financial assistance. During the past year donations to the fund were received from: $1000 each from the Minden and Haliburton Rotary clubs; $300 from the Chalkdusters, HHSS teachers' hockey team, $200 from the Ontario Public School Men Teachers' Federation; $800 from the Provincial County of Haliburton; $50 from the ACW of St. Peter's at Maple Lake; and $200 from a student who, upon graduation, made use of the fund. She has since repaid her loan and added the donation in appreciation.

Another busy week here at Hyland Crest. A lot of visitors, real special guests come to visit relatives living here to have a visit with them they hold most dear. The Shorters spent most of last week in their house in town visiting with their daughter who never lets them down.

Service in the chapel Sunday night. Rev. Burgess spoke on Jesus healing the blind man, real interesting service.

Monday in the craft room doing this and that, but to Mrs. Eastman we must take off our hats. Although she cannot see, which must be very hard, yet she is knitting afghans by many yards.

Linda showed us two movies on Monday night, "Squirrel on my Shoulder" and "A Hobby for Harry."

Tuesday morning our service was taken by our new United Church minister, Rev. Westhaver. He said if we wanted to have a Godly life, and do our Father's will we must pass through the valley, as well as climb the hills. Our girls came to sing, and play - a real nice service, this lovely October day.

Doris took us in the bus to see moose up ahead. When we got there the poor moose was dead.

Tuesday afternoon bingo in the auditorium where it is nice and sunny. I haven't heard of anyone winning any money. Alfred Richardson's lady friend came to take him for a ride - came driving up to Hyland Crest and seated him by her side. Drove him all over the country, through the town too, and brought him safely back again. That was a nice thing to do.

Tuesday night is music night, here at Hyland Crest. The Watson-Smith trio came, and were our welcome guests. They played toe-tapping music, that was simply grand. It was "Salute your corner lady, and take her by the hand."

Doris is on holidays for a few days or so, leaving her sister Linda to run the show.

Thursday down at fun, fitness, I wish you could have been there, just to witness. We all pulled up our socks, and tried to roll the balls through the holes in that there box. Some rolled them fast, others rolled them slow. Carrie Jones won most points. It was a real good show.

Thursday afternoon, the tea-party was served by the ladies from the Auxilliary. The food was so very good, it really tasted great. Then the Browns entertained us. They were so funny, we had a real good laugh, and it didn't cost us any money.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Herb Shorter who have been married sixty-three years on this twenty-second day of October. We hope they'll have a real nice day, and I'm sure they'll both stay sober.

Herbert and Ada Shorter celebrated their sixty-third wedding anniversary October 26. The couple, now residing at Hyland Crest Home, met in Hastings and were married in 1919. Their daughter was visiting from the United States and was on hand to help celebrate this auspicious occasion. Herb and Ada formerly resided on Newcastle Street in Minden.

Edith Welch had friends from Hamilton who have a cottage on Horseshoe Lake - had a real nice visit for old time's sake.

Dr. and Mrs. Fred Griffiths of Houston, Texas called on old friends at Hyland Crest on Sunday afternoon.

Thursday night bingo put on by the members of the Kinsmen Club. I don't know their names, but they operate efficiently these bingo games. We thank them for coming out each week to Hyland

Crest, with all kinds of entertainment.

With all kinds of entertainment we are surely blessed. Teddy Carr says he has won so much money playing bingo games to just keep it lying around - seems really a shame. So he has decided when the run is on, he'll invest the whole lot won in Government Bonds.

Friday some friends of ours who live near the shore of Boskung Lake, took us over to their place for a fish dinner to partake.

Friday afternoon is sing song time. Grace and Norma came along to entertain us royally with music and with song.

Friday night some talented Minden Young People came up to Hyland Crest. Put on a lovely show for us and were our welcome guests. Said they would come again if we so desired. We hope to see them once again before the year's expired.

kinette corner

October 12 the Minden Kinette Club held their general meeting. The month being October, we held our Hallowe'en Party. Kinette Julie Wilkinson won a prize for the best costume.

President Linda Pentney introduced our guest for the evening, Chris Brittain wife of Kin Peter. Chris said she had such a terrific time, that she decided that being a Kinette is what she wants. "Welcome" to the Minden Kinette Club Chris.

October 20 was mystery night for our Kinsmen, what they didn't know was that the Kinette's were cooking their dinner. The guys sat down to a delightful roast beef dinner prepared by the girls. Thanks to all the girls who helped make this a successful night.

Congratulations goes to Kinette Sue Ripley, who is coming up with some great entertainment at our meetings. Our November meeting is Kinette education - and new members school. This is held each year for the new Kinettes so they will get a better insight on what Kinette's is all about.

That's about it for this month.

The October meeting of the Minden Red Cross was held at the Schnitzel House, graciously hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Holliday-Rhodes. Following the dinner, all pertinent branch matters were handled. Mr. David McKinlay, branch President, moved a vote of thanks on behalf of all members present for a most enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Welch, after over sixty years of living in Minden, for many years on Water Street, where the family established and ran Cozy Cabins Resort, this was eventually sold, and Mrs. Edith Welch resided on Tenth Street, a home still adjoining the same property. That home has now been sold and the contents disposed of by auction. Mrs. Welch has taken up residence at Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home. The Cozy Cabins was a pleasant and successful period in her life. We all wish her the best in her new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cox and daughter Meghan will be visiting Mr. and Mrs. Blake Hughes in Mississauga this week.

Dr. Campbell, Dr. Hewitt, and Fred Hewitt, visited with Joyce Hewitt, this week on their way to their hunting camp.

The St. Paul's Thrift Shop will be open this Friday from one to four-thirty. They have great buys so do take advantage.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sears, had as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Sears from Oshawa, last week.

Movies will be shown in the Common Room of the Minden Cultural Centre. Movies for adults will be shown from 2 to 3 p.m., and for children from 7:15 to 8:15 p.m. These movies are free and are of interest to all.

I am sorry to report that John Rockory is at present confined to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay, as is Alice Clark. Dick Kirkwood and my father, Walter are in Minden Red Cross Hospital. We certainly wish them all a speedy recovery.

From Hyland Crest Senior Citizen's Home, a very happy birthday to Berta Dawson who celebrates her birthday on October 22nd.

Nora Hogg and daughter Sheila Austin have been enjoying a delightful and well deserved vacation in Jamaica.

Doris Craig has returned home after being in Toronto, visiting her ailing sister who is now on the mend.

The winners of the Mini Card Party at St. Paul's Parish were for cribbage -

Ethel Leigh, for euchre - Pearl Cowen, lone hands - Jeanne Sears.

Mrs. Vera Ward has returned from a very pleasant vacation in Atlantic City.

Lil Porter and Frieda Harrison have also returned from a delightful holiday in Sault Ste Marie and Kapuskasing.

Faye Hobdon is visiting with her sister Mrs. McElwain.

We have been having quite a few visitors at the Gallery to see the current show, with mixed comments, however we have had quite a few favourable ones. If art can evoke some sort of emotion either good or bad - not indifferent - then the artist has achieved something. Incidentally, I have added three new sketches to the collection. I hope you will come and view them.

My thanks to the Minden Library for obtaining for me two biographies on Gertrude Stein which I literally have been searching for, for years.

We do not wish for friends to feed and clothe our bodies - neighbours are kind enough for that - but to do the like office to our spirits. For this, few are rich enough, however well disposed they may be.

Juvenile Fiction

Title: Nicest Time of the Year. Author: Gay Zhenya.

This book has simple words and black and white illustrations with green grass. Certainly the pictures are good and the text simple for easy reading.

Juvenile Non-Fiction

Title: Going On A Dig. Author: V.F. Morrison.

This is about archaeology and how they make fascinating discoveries. Some emphasis is on new "digs" in the U.S.A. and how they found that Americans had homes in Illinois in 5,000 B.C. Photographs show how this work is done, a good juvenile non-fiction.

Adult Fiction

Title: A Love Story. Author: Patrick Cauvin.

Philippe and Jacqueline. Total strangers with one thing in common; they feel life has left them behind. He is the ferocious Mephisto King, a professional wrestler who paints watercolours in the quiet loneliness of his Paris loft. She's a timid book-seller on the Cote d'Azur, cursed with a walleye and a deep longing to have what other women have. These two unlikely lovebirds meet in a most unusual way. While on tour in Jacqueline's hometown, Philippe is thrown from the ring and literally lands in her lap, breaking her leg. Thus begins this delightful tale of the roller-coaster romance between a gangly professional wrestler and a shy country bookseller.

Fear and inexperience make them awkward as they try to get to know each other, but when Jacqueline pays a surprise visit to Paris and Philippe shows her the town, love conquers all. Trouble looms, however, in the form of two lady wrestlers who join Philippe's act, and Jacqueline begins to suspect that the action isn't only in the ring. But fate comes to the rescue in a wonderful and most unexpected ending. Cauvin takes us through the ups and downs of this unlikely romance and creates an unforgettable love story about two very real and very human people.

Adult Non-Fiction

Title: When The Smoke Hits The Fan. Author: Ralph Bellamy.

Ralph Bellamy takes you on a scenic tour of his life from a stage-hand to his memorable role of F.D.R. in Sunrise at Campobello. At the writing of this book in 1979 he had been involved in resident stock, touring companies, Broadway, radio and T.V. and 97 film features. An Oscar nomination, an Emmy, and an Emmy nomination. He had been president of the Actors' Equity Association and one of the organizers of the Screen Actors' Guild. A very entertaining book with many anecdotes from his friends.

Redmen advance to Kawartha West

The HHSS Junior Redmen have advanced to the Kawartha West football finals against Brock High School of Cannington. The juniors gained a berth in the championship by virtue of their 25-1 win over I.E. Weldon last week in Lindsay.

The seniors, who were defeated by Weldon 21 to 7, now advance to the consolation finals against Brock. Both games will be played this Thursday.

It was a windy day last week when the Redmen travelled to Lindsay for the first game in the play-offs and the juniors used the conditions to their advantage. Kicking with the wind at the opening of the game, the ball travelled to the Weldon goal line. The juniors held the hosts at the line and, following a third down punt, Mike McNaull ran an off-tackle play for the first TD of the game. A two point conversion by the Redmen was missed.

Before the first quarter ended, Greg Pearson kicked a 35 yard field goal.

The Redmen moved the ball well in the second quarter with McNaull and Mike Blake accounting for much of the yardage gained on the ground. Pearson threw a pass to Trevor Powers for the second touchdown for the Redmen. The conversion, another attempt at two points, went astray.

Late in the first half, Weldon managed to get onto the scoreboard with a two point field goal.

Any offensive attempts by Weldon were cut short by tough tackling from Redmen defensive team, especially Paul Allore and Mike Blake. Ron MacDonald also helped to stem the Weldon advance with a key interception during the first half.

There was no scoring in the third quarter, with the Redmen defensive unit once again showing their strength. Paul Allore grabbed an important interception in helping to hold the Weldon team.

In the fourth quarter a 40 yard pass and run play, from Pearson to Don Meharrie, gave the Redmen another touchdown. A spectacular 30 yard run by Mike McNaull brought the ball back to the Weldon three yard line. On the next play he carried the ball over the line for the touchdown.

McNaull ran for over 200 yards in the game. Coach Gary Brohman noted the runner turned in an excellent game, but pointed out he also received top support from his blockers.

Senior game

The seniors opened a strong note in their match with Weldon. With the wind at their backs, the Redmen marched 70 yards up the field when Terry Allore threw to Stephen Smith for the touchdown. The conversion from the boot of Paul Vukic was good.

A number of penalties in the second quarter gave Weldon the advantage and they were able to score and tie the game.

There was no scoring during the third quarter. In an effort to move ahead of Weldon, the Redmen tried a pass in the final quarter, only to see the ball intercepted.

Coach Brohman said he felt the seniors had played their best game of the year, despite the loss.

The team now plays Brock in the consolation final. The game is this Thursday.

3 charged following series of break-ins

A series of four break-ins and one attempted break-in occurred in Minden October 19. Mabel's Cut 'n' Curls lost $153, Mike's Milk lost $180 and Medley's Pizza and Dr. John Purc's were also broken into. An attempt at entry was made on Highlands Plumbing.

Charged in connection with most of the break-ins are local residents Joseph MacMinn, 19, Dusty Upton, 18 and Stanley Baker, 19.

Stamps lifted

A break-in at the Ray Selbie lawyer office in Haliburton Village, October 22 netted the intruder $50 in postage stamps. An adjoining office of Dawson Insurance was also entered. The incident is still under investigation.

Hunter missing

A man lost for two rainy days and nights while moose hunting in Hindon Township was found unharmed about five miles from his hunting camp.

Terry Richardson, 41, of Peterborough was reported missing October 2. He had last been seen at 11:30 the previous morning.

An O.P.P. helicopter was summoned on October 21 and Richardson was found shortly after.

Minor injuries

William McDougall, 62, of Mountain Street in Haliburton was treated for minor bruises and the Municipality of Dysart truck he was driving received $4,000 damage after an accident in Guilford Township October 20.

The loaded dump truck was negotiating a downhill curve when it skidded on wet pavement and rolled over in the ditch.

Investigated by PC Mike Legge.

CARD OF THANKS

Susan and Harry Pye

IN MEMORIAM

BUNKER, Olive Audrey - In loving memory of our dear Mother and Grandmother, who passed away four years ago today, October 28, 1978.

A Mother is a special gift
One you think would stay
You never think the day will come
When she will go away
And yet that moment comes
And we can't say Good-bye
The pain just overwhelms us
And all we do is cry
But deep in our thoughts,
Mom
Your beautiful memories are kept
For they are ours to remember
When others just forget.

Dearly loved and sadly missed by daughters, Faye, Caroline, Joyce, Joanne and sons, Jack, Harry and their families. 10D
